YOUNG
AMERICAN LEADERS

“Many leadership programs are designed in a way that the value comes from the name of the program. This truly provided value that will be utilized after the program and created an environment where the program could result in real-world change.”

- PROGRAM ALUMNI

NOMINATORS

The Minnesota Young American Leaders Program (MYALP) is an intensive, three-and-a-half day Program at the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities campus convening approximately sixty rising leaders across for-profit, government, and non-profit sectors who are committed to working across sectors to help their communities and our region prosper inclusively.

WHY NOMINATE?

The Program provides an opportunity to bring rising leaders together to focus specifically not only on the inclusive economic development of their city or region, but also on challenges and opportunities of common concern to all generations across our state and region.

This Program is regarded as a unique cross-sector development opportunity for high potential rising leaders. The diversity of sectors and leadership experience participants gain represent the vibrant and robust innovative and collaborative acumen needed to enhance the shared prosperity of our state and region.

GUIDANCE FOR NOMINATOR TO CONSIDER IN IDENTIFYING GREAT CANDIDATES FOR MYALP:

Individually, each nominee should:

- Have a minimum of 7 years of professional experience and an interest in collaborating across the for-profit, government, and non-profit sectors for the good of their city, state, or region. This level of professional experience helps to ensure that participants can connect each other to a range of organizations and other individuals in their cities and can—in their future collaborations—call on some experience of leadership within as well as across their organization, division, or community.
- Demonstrated experience working across differences such as race, ideology and sector; open to new ideas and relationships, able to bring expertise and perspective to bear, and willing to debate tough issues civilly.
- Interest in making time available on an ongoing basis to collaborate with other leaders for public good.

Consideration questions

- Civic Engagement
What makes this person’s civic track record distinctive? Examples of impact?
- Runway
Where does this person sit in the balance between track record and runway?
How can the MYALP experience accelerate or alter this person’s trajectory?
- Be open, bring expertise
Can they engage across regional topics?
Can they successfully engage across differences?
Do they have an opportunity to apply the program learnings?
Does the person have a wide breadth of interests/issue areas?

KEY NOMINATION DATES AND APPLICATION PROCESS

Nominations require your name and the applicant’s name, email, and sector

- Once we receive your nomination, we will reach out to the applicant sharing your name and an invitation to apply to the Program.
- Applicants will need to apply to be considered for the Program. It’s helpful if the applicant knows you’ve nominated them and hear directly from you on why this Program would be beneficial.
